

PRIDE OF THE CLUB

Roy Wainwright on some key personalities

The ladies do a great job today in terms of refreshments. Sarah Geldart and her colleagues Carmel and Alison – they raise lots of money on Saturdays and Sundays and at junior games during the week. Sandwiches, crisps, pop, hot drinks – they earn good money for the club.

There were a number of key people in my era. Jack Hurst was the local butcher. He ran the 2nd XI and was a real character. In the 1950s and 1960s he won titles with the 2nd XI. He was a decent player too.

Eric Morley came through the juniors and played all his cricket at Denby Dale. Brian Howell did a lot for the club. He was chairman for a number of years and a major stalwart of the club. He was a comer-in – I think he was from Wombwell originally – and taught at Darton in Barnsley.
